MADE IN ENGLAND BY THE ROYAL PORCELAIN MANUFACTURE, HARROGATE, YORKSHIRE.

Knaresborough. Harrogate is only "beautiful for situation" itself; it is within walking distance of some of the finest scenery in Yorkshire. Knaresborough, 3 miles away has the ruins of its castle founded soon after the Norman conquest and enduring a six weeks siege in the Civil War. Here too is a petrifying spring, an ancient chapel in the solid rock and St. Robert's cave, where the hermit lived who died in 1218.
